CLINE MAKES GOOD ON HIS ASSERTIONS

Twenty-Nine Men Swear on Witness
Stand They Voted For Him
for Road Supervisor

ANOTHER TANGLE APPEARS

Count of Ballots Today Reveals 39
Votes For Shanahan When Re-
count Showed Only 38

WITNESSES LOOK FOR BALLOTS

Many are Unable to Identify Their Own Handwriting on the Slips
of Paper Used

Ora Cline made good his assertion that he received 29 votes at the election of road supervisor in District No. 2 Rushville township at the election held December 16, last, according to the testimony in the trial of his election contest suit. Cline was credited with receiving 17 votes and protested the election of James Shanahan, who on the face of the returns was declared elected.

At the hearing of the suit to contest the election of Shanahan, started today in the court of the county commissioners twenty-nine men testified today that they voted for Cline. The Cline ballots were pasted on a card board and many of the witnesses were able to pick out their ballots, identifying them by the hand writing.

The real sensation of the trial came this afternoon after the plaintiff had closed his side of the case and the defendant had placed James Shanahan on the witness stand. When the polls were closed the election officials credited Shanahan with 39 votes. At the recount of the ballots held in the office of Trustee Young five days after the election Shanahan had 38 votes.

This morning Shanahan identified his votes, picking out thirty-three as being in the handwriting of his son. This afternoon while on the witness stand Shanahan was again identifying the ballots and at this time a count showed a total of 39 ballots. The mystery of the additional ballot remains unsolved. Shanahan a few moments before admitted that the recount showed he had 38 ballots and this afternoon after identifying 33 ballots as written by his son there remains six ballots, bringing the total up to 39. This 39 is declared he received, but the recount he received, but the recount showed only 38.

The defendant had something like 50 witnesses and it was not believed the case would be completed today. Kiplinger and Smith represent the plaintiff, Cline, and George Young the defendant.

The election contest brought such a large crowd that the commissioners moved to the circuit court room where the hearing was held. It was doubtful if the case could be completed today and no decision was expected from the commissioners for some time. The fact that the contest was over one of the smallest offices in the county tended to add interest to the trial.

As had been expected it was a case of the north side lined up against the south side. The solid south in this case was a reality, as the entire section seemed to stand by Cline. When a witness could not identify his ballot by the hand writing he was required to write Cline's name down on a piece of paper. The writings are expected to be compared by the commissioners in reaching a decision. The evidence in the case was taken down by the court stenographer, indicating that

SCHMIDT HERE SATURDAY

Prohibition State Chairman Will Speak at the Court House

J. Raymond Schmidt, state chairman of the prohibition party, and John W. Huddleston, a temperance singer, will conduct a prohibition meeting at the court house assembly room here Saturday. Sessions will be held at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. The prohibition workers are going about the state to give impetus to the dry movement which will culminate in an effort to pass a state wide prohibition bill. The prohibition organization has joined the State Dry Federation which is backing the state wide prohibition measure.

JURY DISAGREES A SECOND TIME

Fails to Reach Verdict in Suit of
Creamery Co. Against T. E.
McAllister.

JURORS STAY OUT 10 HOURS

For the second time the jury which heard the case of the Creamery Package Manufacturing Company against T. E. McAllister failed to reach an agreement and was discharged. The jury was dismissed last night shortly after ten o'clock when it was reported to the court that they were hopelessly deadlocked. The jury was out over ten hours and at the time of dismissal stood 9 to 3 in favor of the plaintiff.

The suit was on a note given in payment for stock in the creamery company. The jury took a total of thirty-five ballots. The jury stood all the way from 6 to 9 to 9 to 3. At one time the jury stood 10 to 2 and this was the closest it ever came to reaching a verdict. The jury asked the court to re-read the instructions yesterday afternoon at four o'clock which was done. This failed to help matters and there never was a chance for an agreement.

WILLIAM E. TINSLEY DROPS DEAD TODAY

Orange Township Farmer Dies in
Kitchen of His Home After
Taking Children to School

LEAVES WIDOW AND CHILDREN

William E. Tinsley, 55 years old, a prominent farmer of Orange township, dropped dead of apoplexy this morning at 8:30 o'clock in the kitchen of his home. Mr. Tinsley had just returned from taking his children to school and fell dead as he entered the kitchen. He appeared to be in his usual health this morning and in fact commented that he felt better than usual, and stated that he had slept better last night than commonly.

Mr. Tinsley was widely known in this and Shelby counties. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Red Men lodges at Blue Ridge and the Knights of Pythias lodge at Shelbyville. Conner Green was called and investigated, finding that death was due to apoplexy.

He is survived by the widow and several children. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

MUST SEE THEIR RESPONSIBILITY

Indiana Housewives Must Develop Larger Conception of Possibilities, T. A. Coleman Says

HE SPEAKS AT SHORT COURSE

There are no Bad Girls, but Simply Misguided Ones, Chicago Instructor Asserts

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 11.—While the dairymen and the live stock breeders of Indiana were busy today with their annual state conventions at the Farmers' Short Course at Purdue University the Hoosier housewives held a meeting of their own, the women of the farms having organized the Indiana Home Economics association for the study and discussion of problems of rural home-making. There were three state conventions here today and they added materially to the Short Course attendance, bringing it up to record-breaking figures. The program today was exceptionally elaborate and everybody was kept busy from morning to night, even the boys and girls being kept at work all day with their classes in corn and pig judging, cattle scoring, butter making, sewing and bread making.

The Indiana State Dairy Association's annual meeting brought together several hundred of Indiana's representative dairymen with President J. B. Carney of Morristown in the chair. The Guernsey and Jersey cattle clubs also held their yearly meeting. The Home Economics Association had a record-breaking attendance at its annual meeting, the principal business being the review of the year's work in girls' club work throughout the state. The association has been very active in furthering this work and has enlisted many girls in competitive bread-making, sewing, buttermaking and other farm tasks. The Indiana Live Stock Breeders' Association had some important problems to consider. President W. S. Robbins of Horace, Indiana, presided.

Addressing the Home Economics Association at its convention today T. A. Coleman, assistant state leader of county agents, told the Indiana housewives present that in order to promote agriculture and accomplish results worth while in the field of farm betterment the people of the farms must develop a larger conception of rural life and its possibilities. He spoke of the progress that was being made in rural advancement through the linking of the two main forces, i. e., the progressive element in the rural population and the agencies of national and state governments working through the extension work of the agricultural college, the United States Department of Agriculture and the county agents, and said this was only a small beginning. The county agents, he said, is the most important step in the development of the agricultural extension work. The county agent working in close touch with the people, learns their particular problems and brings to them the latest experimental information in regard to their farm problems and is a vital force in developing the agriculture of his county. The work of the schools in teaching agriculture and the organizations of the boys' and girls' clubs in rural communities is also important.

"But the greatest development will be," said Mr. Coleman, "when the farm folk realize their important relationship to the world's welfare and, by collectively studying their problems, learn to apply efficient methods to their farm practices. As we learn to grow larger crops we must develop the rural community through the medium of better homes, schools, churches and roads. An appreciation of the aesthetic is always needed. Men and women of the

WILL ALSO PAY FOR WATCH

Earl W. Fierce, Whose Sentence Was Suspended, Says he Didn't
Get Any of Money However

Earl W. Fierce, who was given a suspended sentence of 5 to 14 years in the state reformatory yesterday on a plea of guilty to holding up the train crew of a Pennsylvania freight train, and his father, J. C. Fierce left Rushville last night for their home in Bloomington, Ill. Both father and son were very thankful for the treatment shown them here.

Before leaving the city the elder Mr. Fierce secured from the Pennsylvania detectives the amount of money stolen from the train crew and the value of the watch taken with the promise to repay all of the money. The watch was valued at $57. In addition to this he will repay the sum of $15.61 to the railroad employees from whom the money was taken.

Mr. Fierce stated last night that he did not have the money at this time with which to reimburse the men but would see that they got the money if it took him all his life to earn it. The boy was equally as insistent and declared that he was going to start to work immediately upon reaching Bloomington. Fierce stated that he never obtained a cent of the money stolen from the train crew here and that Storey got all of the money.

The suspending of sentence on young Fierce seemed to meet with approval. The Pennsylvania people would not discuss the case but intimated that they were satisfied. They are of the opinion that Storey was the ring leader and was responsible for the downfall of Fierce.

MILROY MAN UP

Tone V. Tompkins of Milroy was arrested yesterday afternoon and brought before Judge Sparks to face a charge of public intoxication. He entered a plea of guilty. Judge Sparks allowed him to go and did not pronounce judgment. He was let off with the understanding that the first time the court hears of him being drunk he will send him to the penal farm.

Mrs. Walter Niles who has been ill for some time is reported to be very much improved.

A. P. WALKER ASKS $1,380

Files Suit Against Receiver of Ideal
Husker Company

A. P. Walker has filed a claim in circuit court against Charles A. Frazee, receiver for the Ideal Husker company, demanding $1,380. The claim is for labor and $1,000 in borrowed money. Walker claims that he furnished a team and two men while the experiments with the machine were being made and that he never received any pay. The husker's company is now in process of settlement and it is stated that the assets are not sufficient to pay the Walker claim.

IMPEACHMENT ACT IS READY

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—"Votes for women" by constitutional amendment is provided for in a resolution introduced by A. R. Beardsley of Elkhart in the senate today. The bill would also prevent foreigners from voting until they have procured their third papers.

Senator Porter of Washington introduced a resolution providing for prohibition by constitutional amendment. This is not the Dry Federation bill which did not come up today as expected.

Senator Negley of Indianapolis introduced the administration bill providing for easier means of impeachment of public officials.

After a short debate by Senators Kinder and Nejel the bill on the removal of superior court No. 3 from Hammond to Gary was sent back to the committee.

High School Pupils Offer a Rare Treat in First Concert Appearance

Ukelele Quartet and Girls
Quartet, All Dressed as Hawaiians and Presenting Hawaiian Music are Very Popular.

The concert given at the Graham Annex last evening by the Music Department of the Rushville high school, under the direction of C. E. Parke, was a musical treat from start to finish, showing a great amount of talent, excellent selection of pieces, and novelty in the varied program. Considering the inexperience of the weather, the concert was well attended. The audience was very attentive during the program and at the conclusion of each number showed their enthusiasm and appreciation by hearty applause. When the expenses are paid, a sum of about $15 will be cleared, part of which will go toward buying music for the music department and part toward the Athletic association.

The orchestra opened the program with a medley from "The Blue Paradise" and the nine young people played together with excellent harmony. Later in the program, they played "5th Hungarian Dance" by Brahms and "Love's Dream After the Ball" by Czibulka and they were encored repeatedly for this. Each of them proved themselves to be an artist on the instrument which they played. The second number on the program was by the Senior Girls' Glee Club, "Lullaby" by James and "Carmina" by Wilson-Root. The melody in the last number was beautiful and was so heartily applauded that the glee club responded with "Georgia Moon." The girls were dressed in white with ties of the high school colors of red and black and their attractive appearance added to the program. There

REPENTANCE IS NOT SORROW

Dr. F. W. Grossman Says it Involves Recognition of Our Sins and

"MAN ABOVE A CROWD." THEME

The Rev. W. M. Whitsitt Preaches at M. E. Church—Warning to Church Sounded at U. P.

That repentance is not mere sorrow but is recognizing ourselves as sinners and God as merciful and ready in the name of Christ to forgive, was the declaration of Dr. Frank W. Grossman at the First Presbyterian church last night.

Revival meetings also continue at St. Paul's M. E. church and the United Presbyterian churches, the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt, the pastor, preaching at the former church last night on "Man Above a Crowd." An effort will be made to have every member of the official board of the M. E. church present at the service tomorrow night. The Rev. J. W. McFall, pastor of the First M. E. church of Connersville, will preach tonight at the M. E. church. Mrs. Ross, wife of the singing evangelist at this church, arrived yesterday and conducted a meeting at 2:30 p. m. at the church. Similar meetings will be held each afternoon. Considering the weather and other attractions, the crowd was good, it was reported.

Splendid spirit was manifested and a good audience was present at the U. P. church last night. The Rev. D. D. Dodds announced for his topic tonight, "The Abode of the Soul One Minute After Death."

In introductory remarks at the First Presbyterian, Dr. Grossman referred to the disadvantage of the minister who dared not flatter his audience. Continuing on the subject of repentance, he said it was not mere sorrow for many are sorry that are caught.

"Repentance is not fear only because many are afraid to die," he asserted. "Repentance is not stopping one or two or a half dozen bad habits. This process only makes a person more respectable. But repentance is recognizing ourselves as sinners and God as merciful and ready in the name of Christ to forgive. With grief and hatred we turn from the sins that offend our heavenly Father and promise no longer to serve Satan but God."

"We need not repent," he said in conclusion, "to incline God towards us for He is always inclined toward are twenty-one in the glee club. Miss Joan Weakley was extremely popular with the audience when she gave a reading "Watchin' the Sparkin'" in the dialect of a small boy which she characterized, showing remarkable talent for one of her years. She was encored twice, once responding with a clever reading. The girl's quartette composed of the Misses Charlotte Norris, Mary Louise Bliss, Kathleen Hogsett and Kathryn Guffin, sang a beautiful little Japanese song and they were followed by the Boy's Glee Club composed of eighteen boys. Their numbers were in a lighter vein and for "Gentle Willie" and "Slumber Boat"

DRINK WATER TO AVOID SICKNESS SAYS AUTHORITY

Glass of hot water before breakfast daily keeps the doctor away.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headaches, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation. (Adv.)

the case will likely reach the circuit court.

At the start considerable argument ensued over the right of the attorneys for the plaintiff to ask a witness who he had voted for. It was held that a witness had a right to volunteer the information as to whom he voted for.

The first bolt fired by the plaintiff or contestant was the testimony of John Gibson. Gibson testified that he had voted for Cline and had prepared his own ballot writing the name of Cline on a slip of paper and depositing it in the ballot box. Gibson was handed the seventeen ballots found in the box for Cline and he stated that his ballot was not in the bunch. "If it is there I can't read my own writing," testified Gibson.

William Dagler, one of the three candidates for the office, was the first witness. Dagler related conversations he had with William A. Alexander, who acted as inspector at the election. Dagler stated that his first conversation with Alexander was at the Knights of Pythias roll call meeting held some time before the election. Dagler stated that Alexander said to him on this occasion, "I see that another democrat has come out against you." In reply to this Dagler said, "The more the merrier."

He testified that in his next conversation with Alexander, Alexander said, "We want to get the trustee to have the election at No. 7 school house and appoint me inspector." On another occasion Dagler said he asked Alexander if he was working for Shanahan or himself and Alexander replied that he had never voted for a democrat in his life.

J. V. Young, trustee of Rushville township, was called to the stand and identified the ballot box, poll books and papers used at the election. He told of the recount that took place at his office on December 21.

James Shanahan, against whom the suit is directed, was placed on the stand and stated that his son had prepared his ballots and he then sorted out the ballots cast for him as prepared by his son and other ballots cast for him that were not written by his son.

Everette Stout testified that he had voted for Cline, preparing his own ballot. He failed to identify his ballot by the hand writing.

Ora Cline, the plaintiff in the action, testified that he had voted for himself, but he failed to identify his vote. On cross-examination he testified that he wanted the office at that time and worked hard for it. "You operated two automobiles in getting the voters to the polls, didn't you?" asked George Young attorney for Shanahan.

"No I ran five automobiles," said Cline.

William Elliott was the first witness for Cline who identified his ballot. Mull Wallace testified to voting for Cline and he found his ballot. Albert Branem testified that he voted for Cline and he identified his vote.

J. B. Hall stated that he voted for Cline, but failed to find his ballot by the hand writing. On cross-examination each witness was asked if he did not live on the south side.

Paul Green stated that he voted for Cline and he identified his ballot. Tom Lower also found his vote. Lower testified that he had also prepared two other ballots but he failed to find them in the list.

Henry Hines testified that Lower had prepared his ballot, but Lower failed to find it in the list. John Lower found his ballot that was cast for Cline. Dave Powell testified that Elsa Hilligoss prepared his ballot, but Powell was unable to identify the ballot.

Tom Cline, the father of Ora Cline testified to voting for his son but failed to find the ballot as written in his hand writing. Oren Martin failed to find the ballot that he testified to voting for Cline. Clyde Martin found his ballot, but D. H. Kinnett failed to identify his.

us in sympathy. It takes to repent just as long as it takes you to change your mind."

"Son of man I have set thee as a watchman unto the house of Israel; therefore thou shalt hear the word of my mouth and warn them from me," was the text chosen by the Rev. Mr. Dodds at the U. P. church.

"These words," he said, "form perhaps the most important warning to the church of God and to the individual Christian ever given. The first section of the text deals with a military law which establishes the integrity of the city by trusting the patriotism and honor of the watchman who is placed upon the wall with instructions to blow the trumpet at the approach of the enemy."

"The spiritual application of this strong and rigid military law binds eternal responsibility to every Christian. God has set us as watchmen with instructions to give the wicked warning from his mouth. No charge could be brought against the people of Rushville because of failure to manifest concern in times of physical distress."

The Rev. Mr. Dodds recalled how the people responded during the call of distress in the Johnstown flood and the San Francisco earthquake.

"All classes of citizens will respond to those who are in physical distress," he continued, "but the trouble is not physical distress; it is spiritual distress. Lift up your eyes, survey the field; men and women, boys and girls, are under the curse of the broken law. We converse with them on all subjects, yet never open our lips in attempting to save their souls from hell."

The minister pointed to the classes of professed followers of Jesus Christ who are watchmen; the minister, the Sabbath school teacher, every father and mother who profess to be children of God are watchmen.

He invited, in conclusion, all who would do their best to reach the unsaved in the community during the meetings to come forward. Many responded to the invitation and promised to help in the work of the revival.

City Clerk

We are authorized to announce the name of Albert J. Sweet of Rushville, as a candidate for City Clerk on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the primary election, March 6th, 1917.

We are authorized to announce the name of Earl Osborne as a candidate for City Clerk on the Republican ticket subject to the primary election, March 6th, 1917.

We are authorized to announce the name of Walter F. Easley as a candidate for city clerk on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the primary election of March 6, 1917.

Unfair Criticism.

Washington dispatches said that leaders of the prohibition movement were inclined to criticize Senator Watson of this city and Senator Kern for their alleged inconsistency in first voting for the measure leave the question of whether the District of Columbia should be dry to a vote of the people and then voting for the prohibition bill which puts the saloons out of business in the District without a referendum. The referendum bill was defeated by a tie vote. The prohibition bill then was passed by a vote of 55 to 32.

Friends of Mr. Watson here had no trouble in explaining his position and saw nothing inconsistent about it. Few could see that it was any injustice to vote for a bill to submit the prohibition question to the voters of the District of Columbia and let them decide for themselves whether they wanted a saloonless Washington. Consistent or inconsistent, Senator Watson proved himself to be a friend of the dry cause when he voted for the straightout prohibition bill which wipes out the saloons without a referendum.

When the referendum measure was up once in December and was lost in a tie vote. Senator Watson voted for it and issued a statement explaining his stand. He said he had always been a consistent friend of prohibition and cited his race in Indiana for governor in 1908 on a county option platform. County option contemplates the same thing as the referendum measure defeated in the senate.

If, after voting for the referendum, Senator Watson had voted against the prohibition bill, the criticism might be just, but the referendum presented the same principle as does the bill to bring about nationwide prohibition. It is necessary to drive the saloons out of the United States, for the measure to receive a two-thirds vote in both branches of congress and then be approved of by two-thirds of the states.

The real friends of prohibition are those who believe in giving the people a fair show to express their convictions. When fanatics try to jam anything down their throats, it will only set back the prohibition movement.

If all of Governor Goodrich's official acts meet with such general approval as did the first one when he asked Ed Lee to resign as a member of the state public service commission, his record will be enviable.

The national administration plans a will to wipe out corruption in elections and at the same time provide a plenty for election betting. The Muncie Press suggests that probably the democrats want to keep the republicans from winning back in 1920 some of the 10 to 7 money they lost in 1916.

The latest thing in electrical appliances is a lemon squeezer, which might be worked into the happy thought for today.

The allies say they won't and the Teutons say they won't so it looks like what may be terms a draw.

You ought to be able to write it 1917 without a single hitch now.

TO INCREASE CROWD DAILY

Congressional Union Begins Picketing the White House.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 11.—An idea of the earnestness with which the Congressional Union for woman suffrage intends to go in its picketing of the white house came when it was announced the "silent sentinels" would be gradually increased until 3,000 will be surrounding the executive mansion grounds by inauguration day March 5.

Taking their cause to the very gates of the white house twelve Congressional Union women pickets took their position at the entrance to the mansion grounds yesterday. Immediately upon arrival of the "silent sentinels," attaches of the white house went into conference to discuss ways and means of dispersing the women should a demonstration occur or should the "silent sentinels" draw crowds about the gate.

Getting Up

Getting up three hundred and sixty-five times a year as we do, a person would think we'd get used to it. But we don't.

Not even with bellboys, alarm clocks, cold water, wives waiting breakfast and other pernicious inventions to egg us on, we don't.

Folks have been getting up ever since the world began; and they don't like it any better now than they did the morning Cain slew Abel. It's just as easy to keep a good man down as it is to get him up.

About the only way to keep from getting up is to lie down and die. And that doesn't always work. Look at Lazarus.

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT

they responded with an encore, "The Boys Glee Club" adapted to the local organization and brimming over with fun. The boys quartette brought some more comedy in their number "Alexander" simply bringing down the house with the puns on the name 'Alexander' written to music. In this quartette were Carl Hawkins, John Norris, Harold Wolcott and Hubert Alexander.

Harry Schmalzel was more popular than ever last evening when he acted as specialty man for the glee club and gave two black-face monologues. A parody on "The Raven" was so popular that he gave a Hawaiian song. Twenty-four girls are on the Junior Glee club, which sang a beautiful song, "Mammy's Lullaby." Although a new organization for Rushville schools, the Junior Glee club displayed a great amount of vocal talent among the young people.

Mr. Parke, who is a talented violinist, played "First Movement of Spanish Symphony" with excellent technic. He responded with an encore. Mrs. Parke was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Parke. Had one not seen the attractive group of eight young Americans on the stage they might well have believed they were hearing native Hawaiians when the double quartette played a medley of Hawaiian songs, with ukeleles and stringed instruments, the girls singing the melodies. In this group were the girls quartette, mentioned before, and Ed Meredith, Harry Schmalzel, William Sexton and Dwight VanOsdel. The last number by the girl's Glee Club showed a diversity of selection, "Irish Lullaby," "The Two Clocks," and "De Coppah Moon." They were joined on the stage by the other two glee clubs and orchestra for the ensemble number, closing the program with "Auf Wiedersehen" from the "Blue Paradise." This large chorus and excellent accompaniment, a combination of all on the program, was a fitting close to the excellent program. The accompanists are worthy of praise. Miss Dorothy Sparks displayed her remarkable talent in accompanying the orchestra, the Girl's Glee club; John Lewis played well in accompanying the Boy's Glee club; Brenda Kinsinger showed herself a young musician in the difficult accompaniment of the Junior Glee club; and C. E. Parke accompanied the double quartette and solo numbers with ability.

Corns Peel Right Off With "Gets-It"

2 Drops, and the Corn is a "Goner!"
When you've got to walk on the sides of your shoe to get away from those awful corn-pains, there's only one common-sense thing to do.

Use "Gets-It!" Your Corns Won't Swell in Water. Besides, They'll Shrive, Loosen and Peel Off!
Put 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on the corn right away. Pain and inflammation will disappear, the corn will begin to shrivel from that instant—then it loosens and falls right off. There's no other corn-remover in the world that acts like "Gets-It!" No new discovery has been made in corn-removers since "Gets-It" was born. Don't forget that fact. "Gets-It" does away forever with the use of salves that irritate, bandages that make a bundle of your toes, plasters that half do the work, knives and scissors that draw blood. Use "Gets-It!"—no more digging or cutting. "Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Rushville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Hargrove & Mullin.

Publicity Representative of State Park Committee Will be Back in Rushville Tuesday

FUNDS ARE WANTED AT ONCE

M. V. Prather, publicity agent of the State Park Memorial Committee, was here a short time late yesterday afternoon trying to get an audience with a number of public spirited men last night regarding the state park movement, but found nearly everyone he interviewed occupied and decided to return next Tuesday morning. Mr. Prather will hold a meeting and present the proposition to a group of Connorsville men next Monday evening.

Mr. Prather is attempting to interest the people of the counties outside of Marion county in the state park movement, which has for its purpose the preservation of the beauty spots of the state in a park system, which has already been started. Turkey Run and McCormick Creek's Canyon have been purchased, but the committee is still in debt and wants more money. All of the contributions thus far have come from Marion county. An appeal signed by Former Governor Ralston and Governor Goodrich in December was published here, but there was scarcely any local comment. It is desired that the necessary funds be raised immediately so that the legislature can formally accept the gift on the part of the state.

MUST SEE RESPONSIBILITY

"Organization is doing great things for rural Indiana," said Miss Grace L. King of Richmond today, in an address before the Home Economics association. Miss King is the supervisor of domestic science in the Wayne County schools. "One thing that has brought about great changes in farm life is the realization of the fact that something must be done to make country life more attractive and keep young people on the farm. Facing this condition the farmers hastened the organization of their forces and the housewives joined with them. This revolution in rural life is felt in every community. It is the dawn of a new era. The financial gain through organization and improved methods is tremendous but it is small compared to the improvement in the rural schools, the rural church, the farm house and the life and character of the people themselves."

The weakest thing in home management is the failure to spend wisely," she continued. Economists agree that our greatest problem is not one of how to produce economically, but how to consume without waste. Husband and wife must agree on a program of expenditure if home life is to be ideal. As to what is the greatest need of the rural communities today I would say that it is leadership. The farming communities need leaders—preferably residents of these places. A wise leader will unselfishly devote himself to the advancement of his community. He will organize wisely and well. And then standards will be raised all along the line."

"Children's Clothing," was the subject of Miss Beall's address before the home economics association. She said it was very important to provide the right kind of clothing for children. Protection must be given the growing body without distorting it. The child's attire should not be too conspicuously different from that of its playmates and it should not be so elaborate as to foster false pride. Simple, durable garments were recommended.

"There are no bad girls," said Dr. Edith B. Lowry of Chicago. "There are misguided girls, undisciplined girls who suffer from the effects of lack of training, bad environment and bad heredity, but there are no actually bad girls. In our eagerness to train the girls for their part in business life we have been inclined to neglect the training for the other part of their life—that of a homemaker and mother. We expect a boy to do things which serve as an outlet for his pent-up emotions but we expect a girl to go in a calm, uneventful manner with no outlet for the overflow of emotion. The majority of mothers seem to have no recollection of their own youthful dreams. The girl who has had the right kind of home training can go out in the world and be trusted to find the path of right and virtue. The girl, on the other hand, who has known no proper home influence is not as even under her own roof. The only way is to make the home conform to that beautiful definition: 'In the thought of civilized humanity, home is the one peculiarly dear and holy place where shall bud and blossom the highest growths of human life!'

Pitch-in supper for Psi Iota Xi, with Mrs. Reeves Woods near Arlington. Guests leave here on 1:37 or 3:37 traction cars.

At the meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church held yesterday afternoon in the church final plans were made for the supper this evening. Several other business matters were decided upon. About ten members of the society were present.

Miss Lillian Coyne was honored Tuesday evening when a birthday surprise was given on her by Miss Hazel Smalley who planned the affair. The party celebrated her 16th birthday. Twenty-six young people gathered at her home and spent the time dancing and playing games. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church held a large and very interesting session in the parlors of the church yesterday afternoon. After a profitable prayer and song service, a business meeting was held during which it was decided to serve a penny supper in the basement of the church on Wednesday evening, January 17th. The supper will be served from 5 o'clock on.

In taking up a new book for mission study for the coming year, an excellent program was given at the meeting of the Young Ladies Missionary society of the United Presbyterian held with Miss Anna Mary Cowan yesterday afternoon. The book for the coming year is "World Missions and World Peace" and the leader of the program was Mrs. James Hall, who opened the program with a Bible reading. Miss Cowan discussed "The Principles of the Early Church," "The Church Militant" was discussed by Mrs. Hal Pike; and Mrs. Kramer gave an interesting discussion of "How Can the Church of Today Retain the Principles of Early Christianity." A letter was read from Miss Logan of India who is one of the teachers of the little Indian girl which the society is educating. Plans for the coming year were discussed. The next meeting of the society will be with Mrs. Fred Wilson.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Clennie Stevens spent yesterday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stevens.

The lesson for Mrs. Link's Bible class which will meet with Mrs. F. B. Stearns tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock will be Joshua 9 to 15.

One of the prettiest little informal affairs of the season was the card party given by Mrs. Carl Behr yesterday afternoon when she entertained several guests with the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Card Club at her home in North Main street. There were 7 tables in play, engaged in the rounds of Bridge. At the conclusion of the games, an elegant turkey dinner was served made more delicious by the beautiful appointments arranged by the hostess.

A very enthusiastic start for the New Year was made by the members of the Loyal Women's Bible class of the Christian Sunday school at their meeting in the church yesterday afternoon. The out-going and incoming officers acted as hostesses. The business session in the church parlors was followed by the service of a luncheon in the basement of the church. Here a color scheme of green and yellow was brought out in the attractive decorations. Yellow candles lit each of the small tables and strands of smilax were twined here and there. A delicious luncheon was served to the fifty-three guests. The out-going officers were president, Mrs. Laura Keisling; vice-president, Mrs. Walter Conoway; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charles Osman, who was re-elected for next year. The incoming officers are president, Mrs. P. H. Chadwick; vice-president, Mrs. Bert Ormes; and assistant secretary-treasurer, Mrs. John Borem.

An auspicious start for the coming year was made by the Woman's Relief Corps yesterday afternoon when a public installation of officers was made in the Red Men hall. Following the installation, which was witnessed by about 40 members of the society and a number of visitors, an elegant pitch-in supper was served in the dining room. Mrs. Selman Webb, the outgoing president, received a number of pretty gifts as a token of the appreciation of the members of the Corps for her efficient service. The incoming officers who were installed yesterday were: president, Mrs. Will Trennepohl; senior vice-president, Mrs. Eva Offutt; junior vice-president, Mrs. Lydia Turner; secretary, Mrs. Noley G. Newkirk; treasurer, Mrs. William Bainbridge; chaplain, Mrs. Selman Webb; conductor, Mrs. Alice Denny; assistant, Mrs. Fannie Ridenbaugh; guard, Mrs. Francis Walker; assistant, Mrs. Laura Wolverton; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Cornelia Lyons; press correspondent, Mrs. Phoebe Philips; color bearers, Mrs. Minnie Moore, Mrs. Mary Poston, Mrs. Ella Wolung, Miss Anna Gilson; installing officer, Mrs. Addie Mattox.

The next meeting of the W. R. C. will be Wednesday, January 24 in the G. A. R. room of the court house. The next meeting of the Penny Social, the social organization in connection with the Corps, will be the first Tuesday in February with Mrs. C. M. Yocum.

Mrs. A. L. Canady of Raleigh was hostess for the meeting of the Sunshine Embroidery Club held yesterday afternoon. A dozen members of the club were present for the delightful time spent together at the close of which a tempting luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ed Chambers of this city.

John Carpenter is ill at his home in Seventh street with a severe attack of la grippe.

From all indications, more than the usual crowd of out-of-town visitors will attend the dance to be given Monday evening in the Phi Delta Kappa hall by a committee of local young men. The music is quite an attraction and on this account a cabaret program will be given from 8:15 to 9:30 and following this, those who care to dance may do so. The orchestra is composed of six pieces, three of the members being ladies, and is said to live up to the name Troubadours. They come from Chicago.

SHOWS RATS TO BE VERY EXPENSIVE

Dr. Hurty Declares They Have Brought on High Cost of Living—Loss Estimated.

SUGGESTS KILLING THEM

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—To reduce the high cost of living kill the rats; This was the advice given today by Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the States Board of Health. "There are fully 3,000,000 rats in the state of Indiana, and each one costs, not less than $1.50 for its keep, Dr. Hurty said. "This means an annual expenditure for feeding rats of $4,500,000. This is a tidy sum and if it were saved by killing the rats, it would go a long way toward the meeting of the high costs of living.

"Rats also carry lice, fleas and other insect vermin. Typhus fever, which is transmitted through lice, has recently appeared in two places in Illinois and if any of these rats stray over the line into Indiana and bring some lice infected with typhus fever germs, we will have that awful disease to contend with in the hoosier state.

"It will be found almost as profitable to kill rats and cement them out with cement foundations and cement floors, as it is to raise some crops. If the people of Indiana are a practical people, if the business men really know good business, and if we all desire to practice a big and true economy, we will rise against the rats."

HARRY THAW TRY TO TAKE HIS LIFE

Slayer of Stanford White Who Was Indicted by Grand Jury Slashes Throat With Razor

SLIGHT CHANCE TO RECOVER

(By United Press.) Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 11.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and now wanted in New York to answer an indictment that he brought Frederick Gump here, cut his throat in a West Philadelphia apartment this afternoon.

Thaw also slashed his wrist. Physicians said he had a slight chance of recovery. Thaw slashed himself as detectives were bursting into the room to arrest him on the warrant issued in New York. He had terribly mutilated himself with the razor.

Thaw's sensational attempts at suicide brought to a close a nationwide search conducted by the New York police department after his indictment on charges of kidnapping the Gump boy on Christmas day in Thaw's room.

FOUNDATION DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Alumni and Former Students of Indiana University Will Hear Prof. William Jenkins.

AT COURT HOUSE ASSEMBLY

State University is 97 Years Old Friday and Celebrations Will be Held all Over State.

Local alumni and former students of Indiana University are planning for a Foundation Day program here Friday night. The meeting will be held in the assembly room of the court house and the main speaker of the evening will be Prof. William Jenkins of the university. The meeting is open to the public and a special effort is being made to obtain a large gathering of alumni and former students.

Prof. Jenkins is not unknown in Rushville. He has been delivering a series of lectures to the Shakespeare club and through these talks has gained a large following. As he is a member of the university faculty his presence should add interest to the celebration.

The state university is ninety-seven years old Friday and similar celebrations are to be held by the alumni all over the state. The birthday of the university has been observed for several years past and it is hoped to have this year establish a high mark for attendance.

The Foundation Day address at the University will be delivered by Ambassador Romulo S. Naon. The coming of such a famous man as the Argentina ambassador, it is believed, will interest the alumni throughout the state. He is a well known authority on constitutional law and educational subjects.

Other events at the university will include a play by the university dramatic club, the annual Foundation Day parade, a University Orchestra recital and the awarding of

11 STATES TO ASK BOUNTY ON COYOTES

Plans For Uniform Law in All of the States Are Now Being Considered

$2.50 A HEAD TO BE PROPOSED

(By United Press.)

Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 11.—Plans for the adoption of a uniform bounty law for coyotes seriously hampering sheep raising in the western range states will be made at the three-day convention of the National Wool-growers association which opened here today.

A special committee will report a measure which it framed for the legislatures of the eleven western states of Utah, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon and Washington. A bounty of $2.50 a head will be proposed.

An estimated investment of $100,000,000 was represented by the 1,000 members from thirteen western states.

President Frank J. Hagenbarth, in his annual report, predicted continued high prices for wool, declaring that adverse legislation, the reduction in ranges, the foreign outlook and bullish conditions generally have resulted in a large reduction in the size of flocks.

the Bryan prize for oratory.

The interest manifested in Foundation Day has grown year by year. Not only in the state are meetings held and permanent alumni organizations effected, but also in numerous larger cities scattered throughout the country. Last year thirty such meetings were held, while in the state proper the university was remembered by sixty-six meetings in as many counties.

BILL FOR FARM AT REFORMATORY

Senator Charles Lantz Wants Institution to be at Least Partly Self Supporting.

PROPOSES TO GET 1,000 ACRES

Will Ask Legislature to Appropriate Sum of $20,000 For Paroled Prisoners.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Senator Charles Lantz of Bedford expects to start the ball rolling in the legislature for a farm at the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville, to make that institution at least partly self-supporting. The government will be in accordance with the policy of Gov. Goodrich's and recommendations of the visiting committee of the state board of charities and David C. Peyton, superintendent of the institution.

It is proposed to procure a five year lease on 1,100 acres of land with option of purchasing the farm at any time during life of the lease.

During the last year, 40 per cent profit was made on the institutions 168 acre farm. Onions, potatoes and other vegetables used in the reformatory were raised.

Peyton will ask the legislature to create a fund of $20,000 for paroled and discharged prisoners. He will also ask $150,000 for maintenance for each year for the next two years basing the amount on 1,000 prisoners and $130 a year for each inmate in excess of this number.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 11.—The state department has instructed American Charge Karter at Mexico City that American Consul Williams at San Luis Potosi immediately investigate the death of Luis D'Anton, Mexican embassy attache, who died suddenly while accompanying Ambassador Arredondo to Mexico City.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

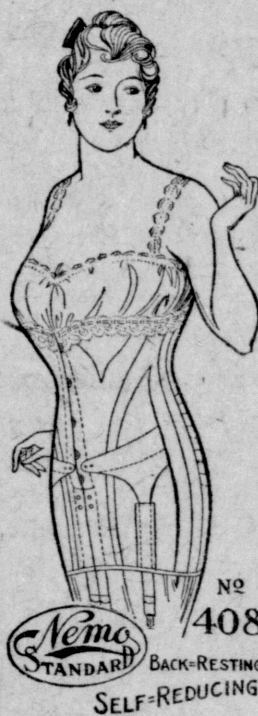

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BILL PROVIDES FOR ABSENT VOTERS

Controversy During Recent Election Over Indiana Guard Leads to Introduction.

APPLICATION TO CLERK

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Provision for voters who are out of the state on election day, to cast their ballots is made in a bill which will be introduced in the lower house of the legislature by Representative Ira A. Kessler, of McGrawville and in the senate by William E. English, Indianapolis.

Controversies during the recent election regarding whether the Indiana National Guardsmen at the border could cast their vote by mail led to the drafting of the bill.

The voter, according to the bill, would be required to make application to the clerk of the Circuit court in the county or town in which he resided thirty days before election.

TO REPEAL LAW.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Repeal of the present Indiana election registration law and the enactment of a substitute measure will be proposed in a bill to be introduced into the legislature within a few days. The substitute bill will provide that voters would be required to show their tax receipt before being allowed to cast their ballots. This provision would eliminate colonization, it is believed by the backers of the bill.

CRIST OF BILLS STARTS IN SENATE

Measure Calling For Constitutional Convention in January, 1918 is Introduced.

ONE AIMED AT OLD H. C. OF L.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—The bill providing for the calling of a constitutional convention was introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Harry Negley of Indianapolis, republican, and Senator Abram Simmons of Bluffton, the two senators acting jointly. The convention would meet in January, 1918.

The first bill aimed at the high cost of living was introduced by Senator Negley. It provides that no city in Indiana shall impose a license on peddlers or hawkers who are trying to sell goods which they produce themselves.

Prohibition of the sale of liquor on trains is asked in a bill presented by Representative Wood of Rensselaer.

The senate appointment committee today gave jobs to forty-nine persons, ten of whom are democrats.

Women would have to live in a county sixty days before a marriage license could be granted, according to the provision of a bill introduced by Senator English of Indianapolis. Abolishment of capital punishment is asked by Senator McCray of Franklin, in a bill.

Senator Kinder of Gary introduced a bill providing that injured workmen will have to wait only seven days instead of fourteen for compensation as at present.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

ANITA STEWART SAYS—

(COPYRIGHT 1916-VITAGRAPH)

My Favorite Slogan.

Not very beautiful—but brimming with truth and hope anew every time I repeat it to myself—is my slogan. Perhaps by these hints you have guessed that it is "Be glad you're alive!"

After all, the very fact that we live is enough for which to be thankful. Perhaps just today our health is poor and our purse slim. But tomorrow's another day, and we may be still alive to enjoy any good things which may be in store.

Of course I know it's very hard to be thankful for anything when your head aches and your body is tired. I've been in that state myself. Particularly right after my long illness did it seem almost impossible to go through another day. But the hand-painted motto "Be glad you're alive" which friend Ethel designed for me and which hangs between my bedroom windows, stared me in the face and shamed me. I gathered my nerves together and stood refreshed for the battle.

I am glad to be alive. Life is so wonderful and is ever offering so much new and delightful that I should hate to have it slip from my grasp. We never appreciate life until it starts to leave us, you know. And then what an effort we make to hold tightly to the shreds of it! When I was ill with the raging fever which seemed to burn the very blood out of my body, the only thing I desired in this world was to get well. How small and petty former troubles seemed in this ordeal.

Be glad you're alive, friends. But something else—make those about you also glad you're alive. Have a smile even though your brain is tired and your body racked. After all it only takes a moment to say a kind word or give a smile, and then you have probably won a firmer friendship.

Remember also that as long as we have life we have opportunity of making all things worth while. With life in our grasp, it lies in our powers to acquire health, wealth and the combination of the two—happiness.

BASKETBALL TO BE PRIZE

The Milroy high school will stage a basketball tournament at their high school gymnasium next Saturday, when the teams representing the Moscow, Manilla, Homer, Sandusky, St. Paul and Clarksburg high schools go there to compete for the honors of this and Decatur counties. The object of the tournament is to give the smaller schools of the two counties an opportunity to compete with teams on an equal footing with themselves, since they have a better chance than when competing with teams of the larger schools. It is understood that only one of the fives named—Milroy—had been invited to take part in the tournament which will be held in Rushville later in the season. All the teams named have declared their intention of being on hand at the meeting and as all of them are said to be pretty evenly matched some interesting games will be seen there. The winning team will receive as a prize a new basketball.

The expenses of the tournament will be paid from the door receipts after which any funds remaining will be divided equally among the various teams.

The domestic science girls and teachers will serve dinner at noon to any who wish to patronize them.

Prof. G. M. Wylie, of the Greensburg high school, will officiate and a square deal is assured every team.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT

High School Basketball Team Journeys to "Quaker City" For a Game This Week End.

HOPES TO TURN THE TABLES

The local high school basketball team will play at Richmond Friday night. This is considered the hardest game on the entire schedule of the Rushville five. Richmond defeated the locals on the home floor this season but Rushville hopes to make a good showing on the large Richmond floor. The Rushville five was handicapped in the first Richmond game by the absence of Martin, the lengthy center and with him back in the game Friday night the tables may be turned on Richmond.

Coach Masters has been working his men hard in preparation for this game and believed the team stands an equal chance of winning. The team is known to play its best game away from home and local supporters are hoping for the best.

CLINE MAKES GOOD ON HIS ASSERTIONS

Twenty-Nine Men Swear on Witness
Stand They Voted For Him
for Road Supervisor

ANOTHER TANGLE APPEARS

Count of Ballots Today Reveals 39
Votes For Shanahan When Re-
count Showed Only 38

WITNESSES LOOK FOR BALLOTS

Many are Unable to Identify Their
Own Handwriting on the Slips
of Paper Used

Ora Cline made good his assertion that he received 29 votes at the election of road supervisor in District No. 2 Rushville township at the election held December 26, last, according to the testimony in the trial of his election contest suit. Cline was credited with receiving 17 votes and protested the election of James Shanahan, who on the face of the returns was declared elected.

At the hearing of the suit to contest the election of Shanahan, started today in the court of the county commissioners twenty-nine men testified today that they voted for Cline. The Cline ballots were pasted on a card board and many of the witnesses were able to pick out their ballots, identifying them by the hand writing.

The real sensation of the trial came this afternoon after the plaintiff had closed his side of the case and the defendant had placed James Shanahan on the witness stand. When the polls were closed the election officials credited Shanahan with 39 votes. At the recount of the ballots held in the office of Trustee Young five days after the election Shanahan had 38 votes.

This morning Shanahan identified his votes, picking out thirty-three as being in the handwriting of his son. This afternoon while on the witness stand Shanahan was again identifying the ballots and at this time a count showed a total of 39 ballots. The mystery of the additional ballot remains unsolved. Shanahan a few moments before admitted that the recount showed he had 38 ballots and this afternoon after identifying 33 ballots as written by his son there remains six ballots, bringing the total up to 39. This 39 is declared he received, but the recount he received, but the recount showed only 38.

The defendant had something like 50 witnesses and it was not believed the case would be completed today. Kiplinger and Smith represent the plaintiff, Cline, and George Young the defendant.

The election contest brought such a large crowd that the commissioners moved to the circuit court room where the hearing was held. It was doubtful if the case could be completed today and no decision was expected from the commissioners for some time. The fact that the contest was over one of the smallest offices in the county tended to add interest to the trial.

As had been expected it was a case of the north side lined up against the south side. The solid south in this case was a reality, as the entire section seemed to stand by Cline. When a witness could not identify his ballot by the hand writing he was required to write Cline's name down on a piece of paper. The writings are expected to be compared by the commissioners in reaching a decision. The evidence in the case was taken down by the court stenographer, indicating that

Fails to Reach Verdict in Suit of
Creamery Co. Against T. E.
McAllister.

JURORS STAY OUT 10 HOURS

For the second time the jury which heard the case of the Creamery Package Manufacturing Company against T. E. McAllister failed to reach an agreement and was discharged. The jury was dismissed last night shortly after ten o'clock when it was reported to the court that they were hopelessly deadlocked. The jury was out over ten hours and at the time of dismissal stood 9 to 3 in favor of the plaintiff.

The suit was on a note given in payment for stock in the creamery company. The jury took a total of thirty-five ballots. The jury stood all the way from 6 to 9 to 3. At one time the jury stood 10 to 2 and this was the closest it ever came to reaching a verdict. The jury asked the court to re-read the instructions yesterday afternoon at four o'clock which was done. This failed to help matters and there never was a chance for an agreement.

Orange Township Farmer Dies In
Kitchen of His Home After
Taking Children to School

LEAVES WIDOW AND CHILDREN

William E. Tinsley, 55 years old, a prominent farmer of Orange township, dropped dead of apoplexy this morning at 8:30 o'clock in the kitchen of his home. Mr. Tinsley had just returned from taking his children to school and fell dead as he entered the kitchen. He appeared to be in his usual health this morning and in fact commented that he felt better than usual, and stated that he had slept better last night than commonly.

Mr. Tinsley was widely known in this and Shelby counties. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Red Men lodges at Blue Ridge and the Knights of Pythias lodge at Shelbyville. Covener Green was called and investigated, finding that death was due to apoplexy.

He is survived by the widow and several children. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

HE SPEAKS AT SHORT COURSE

There are no Bad Girls, but Simply Misguided Ones, Chicago Instructor Asserts

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 11.—While the dairymen and the live stock breeders of Indiana were busy today with their annual state conventions at the Farmers' Short Course at Purdue University the Hoosier housewives held a meeting of their own, the women of the farms having organized the Indiana Home Economics association for the study and discussion of problems of rural home-making. There were three state conventions here today and they added materially to the Short Course attendance, bringing it up to record-breaking figures. The program today was exceptionally elaborate and everybody was kept busy from morning to night, even the boys and girls being kept at work all day with their classes in corn and pig judging, cattle scoring, butter making, sewing and bread making.

The Indiana State Dairy Association's annual meeting brought together several hundred of Indiana's representative dairymen with President J. B. Carney of Morrisstown in the chair. The Guernsey and Jersey cattle clubs also held their yearly meeting. The Home Economics Association had a record-breaking attendance at its annual meeting, the principal business being the review of the year's work in girls' club work throughout the state. The association has been very active in furthering this work and has enlisted many girls in competitive bread-making, sewing, buttermaking and other farm tasks. The Indiana Live Stock Breeders' Association had some important problems to consider. President W. S. Robbins of Horace, Indiana, presided.

Addressing the Home Economics Association at its convention today T. A. Coleman, assistant state leader of county agents, told the Indiana housewives present that in order to promote agriculture and accomplish results worth while in the field of farm betterment the people of the farms must develop a larger conception of rural life and its possibilities. He spoke of the progress that was being made in rural advancement through the linking of the two main forces, i. e., the progressive element in the rural population and the agencies of national and state governments working through the extension work of the agricultural college, the United States Department of Agriculture and the county agents, and said this was only a small beginning. The county agents, he said, is the most important step in the development of the agricultural extension work. The county agent working in close touch with the people, learns their particular problems and brings to them the latest experimental information in regard to their farm problems and is a vital force in developing the agriculture of his county. The work of the schools in teaching agriculture and the organizations of the boys' and girls' clubs in rural communities is also important.

"But the greatest development will be," said Mr. Coleman, "when the farm folk realize their important relationship to the world's welfare and, by collectively studying their problems, learn to apply efficient methods to their farm practices. As we learn to grow larger crops we must develop the rural community through the medium of better homes, schools, churches and roads. An appreciation of the aesthetic is always needed. Earl W. Fierce, Whose Sentence Was
Get Any of Money However

Earl W. Fierce, who was given a suspended sentence of 5 to 14 years in the state reformatory yesterday on a plea of guilty to holding up the train crew of a Pennsylvania freight train, and his father, J. C. Fierce, left Rushville last night for their home in Bloomington, Ill. Both father and son were very thankful for the treatment shown them here.

Before leaving the city the elder Mr. Fierce secured from the Pennsylvania detectives the amount of money stolen from the train crew and the value of the watch taken with the promise to repay all of the money. The watch was valued at $57. In addition to this he will repay the sum of $15.61 to the railroad employees from whom the money was taken.

Mr. Fierce stated last night that he did not have the money at this time with which to reimburse the men but would see that they got the money if it took him all his life to earn it. The boy was equally as insistent and declared that he was going to start to work immediately upon reaching Bloomington. Fierce stated that he never obtained a cent of the money stolen from the train crew here and that Storey got all of the money.

The suspending of sentence on young Fierce seemed to meet with approval. The Pennsylvania people would not discuss the case but intimated that they were satisfied. They are of the opinion that Storey was the ring leader and was responsible for the downfall of Fierce.

MILROY MAN UP

Tone V. Tompkins of Milroy was arrested yesterday afternoon and brought before Judge Sparks to face a charge of public intoxication. He entered a plea of guilty. Judge Sparks allowed him to go and did not pronounce judgment. He was let off with the understanding that the first time the court hears of him being drunk he will send him to the penal farm.

Mrs. Walter Niles who has been ill for some time is reported to be very much improved.

A. P. WALKER ASKS $1,380

Files Suit Against Receiver of Ideal
Husker Company

A. P. Walker has filed a claim in circuit court against Charles A. Frazee, receiver for the Ideal Husker company, demanding $1,380. The claim is for labor and $1,000 in borrowed money. Walker claims that he furnished a team and two men while the experiments with the machine were being made and that he never received any pay. The husker's company is now in process of settlement and it is stated that the assets are not sufficient to pay the Walker claim.

SUFFRAGE BILL IS INTRODUCED

"Votes For Women" by Constitutional Amendment Sought in Measure Put Before the Senate.

IMPEACHMENT ACT IS READY

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11—"Votes for women" by constitutional amendment is provided for in a resolution introduced by A. R. Beardsley of Elkhart in the senate today. The bill would also prevent foreigners from voting until they have procured their third papers.

Senator Porter of Washington introduced a resolution providing for prohibition by constitutional amendment. This is not the Dry Federation bill which did not come up today as expected.

Senator Negley of Indianapolis introduced the administration bill providing for easier means of impeachment of public officials.

After a short debate by Senators Kinder and Nejel the bill on the removal of superior court No. 3 from Hammond to Gary was sent back to the committee.

High School Pupils Offer a Rare Treat in First Concert Appearance

Ukelele Quartet and Girls

Very Popular.

The concert given at the Graham Annex last evening by the Music Department of the Rushville high school, under the direction of C. E. Parke, was a musical treat from start to finish, showing a great amount of talent, excellent selection of pieces, and novelty in the varied program. Considering the inclemency of the weather, the concert was well attended. The audience was very attentive during the program and at the conclusion of each number showed their enthusiasm and appreciation by hearty applause. When the expenses are paid, a sum of about $15 will be cleared, part of which will go toward buying music for the music department and part toward the Athletic association.

The orchestra opened the program with a medley from "The Blue Paradise" and the nine young people played together with excellent harmony. Later in the program, they played "5th Hungarian Dance" by Brahms and "Love's Dream After the Ball" by Czibulka and they were encored repeatedly for this. Each of them proved themselves to be an artist on the instrument which they played. The second number on the program was by the Senior Girls' Glee Club, "Lullaby" by James and "Carmena" by Wilson-Root. The melody in the last number was beautiful and was so heartily applauded that the glee club responded with "Georgia Moon." The girls were dressed in white with ties of the high school colors of red and black and their attractive appearance added to the program. There are twenty-one in the glee club. Miss Joan Weakley was extremely popular with the audience when she gave a reading "Watchin' the Sparkin'" in the dialect of a small boy which she characterized, showing remarkable talent for one of her years. She was encored twice, once responding with a clever reading. The girl's quartette composed of the Misses Charlotte Norris, Mary Louise Bliss, Kathleen Hogsett and Kathryn Guffin, sang a beautiful little Japanese song and they were followed by the Boy's Glee Club composed of eighteen boys. Their numbers were in a lighter vein and for "Gentle Wilke" and "Slumber Boat" Continued on Page 3.

Amusements

The Gem offers the next chapter of "A Lass of the Lumberlands" for the first picture tonight. Helen Holmes is featured as usual and it is said to be a thrilling episode of this story. There is plenty of action to this picture. Tomorrow the five act feature "Soul Mates" will be shown.

The Princess will show Barney Barnard, the famous comedian in "A Prince in a Pawn Shop" for the program tonight. The story of this human interest drama offers Mr. Barnard innumerable opportunities of extending his fame to the motion picture public. This feature contains a number of clever examples of double exposure work. A vision of poverty, represented by an old woman in rags, continually haunts one character. This vision is used only at the right places in the story and affords no small amount of interest. Friday the Princess offers the feature "The Man From Bitter Roots." William Farnum and Betty Harte are featured.

DRINK WATER TO AVOID SICKNESS SAYS AUTORITY

Glass of hot water before breakfast daily keeps the doctor away.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headaches, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation. (Adv.)

CLINE MAKES GOOD

the case will likely reach the circuit court.

At the start considerable argument ensued over the right of the attorneys for the plaintiff to ask a witness who he had voted for. It was held that a witness had a right to volunteer the information as to whom he voted for.

The first bolt fired by the plaintiff or contestant was the testimony of John Gibson. Gibson testified that he had voted for Cline and had prepared his own ballot writing the name of Cline on a slip of paper and depositing it in the ballot box. Gibson was handed the seventeen ballots found in the box for Cline and he stated that his ballot was not in the bunch. "If it is there I can't read my own writing," testified Gibson.

William Dagler, one of the three candidates for the office, was the first witness. Dagler related conversations he had with William A. Alexander, who acted as inspector at the election. Dagler stated that his first conversation with Alexander was at the Knights of Pythias roll call meeting held some time before the election. Dagler stated that Alexander said to him on this occasion, "I see that another democrat has come out against you." In reply to this Dagler said, "The more the merrier."

He testified that in his next conversation with Alexander, Alexander said, "We want to get the trustee to have the election at No. 7 school house and appoint me inspector." On another occasion Dagler said he asked Alexander if he was working for Shanahan or himself and Alexander replied that he had never voted for a democrat in his life.

J. V. Young, trustee of Rushville township, was called to the stand and identified the ballot box, poll books and papers used at the election. He told of the recount that took place at his office on December 21.

James Shanahan, against whom the suit is directed, was placed on the stand and stated that his son had prepared his ballots and he then sorted out the ballots cast for him as prepared by his son and other ballots cast for him that were not written by his son.

Everette Stout testified that he had voted for Cline, preparing his own ballot. He failed to identify his ballot by the hand writing.

Ora Cline, the plaintiff in the action, testified that he had voted for himself, but he failed to identify his vote. On cross-examination he testified that he wanted the office at that time and worked hard for it. "You operated two automobiles in getting the voters to the polls, didn't you?" asked George Young attorney for Shanahan.

"No I ran five automobiles," said Cline.

William Elliott was the first witness for Cline who identified his ballot. Mull Wallace testified to voting for Cline and he found his ballot. Albert Branem testified that he voted for Cline and he identified his vote.

J. B. Hall stated that he voted for Cline, but failed to find his ballot by the hand writing. On cross-examination each witness was asked if he did not live on the south side.

Paul Green stated that he voted for Cline and he identified his ballot. Tom Lower also found his vote. Lower testified that he had also prepared two other ballots but he failed to find them in the list.

Henry Hines testified that Lower had prepared his ballot, but Lower failed to find it in the list. John Lower found his ballot that was cast for Cline. Dave Powell testified that Elsa Hilligoss prepared his ballot, but Powell was unable to identify the ballot.

Tom Cline, the father of Ora Cline testified to voting for his son but failed to find the ballot as written in his hand writing. Oren Martin failed to find the ballot that he testified to voting for Cline. Clyde Martin found his ballot, but D. H. Kinnett failed to identify his.

REPENTANCE NOT SORROW

as in sympathy. It takes to repent just as long as it takes you to change your mind."

"Son of man I have set thee as a watchman unto the house of Israel; therefore thou shalt hear the word of my mouth and warn them from me," was the text chosen by the Rev. Mr. Dodds at the U. P. church.

"These words," he said, "form perhaps the most important warning to the church of God and to the individual Christian ever given. The first section of the text deals with a military law which establishes the integrity of the city by trusting the patriotism and honor of the watchman who is placed upon the wall with instructions to blow the trumpet at the approach of the enemy."

"The spiritual application of this strong and rigid military law binds eternal responsibility to every Christian. God has set us as watchmen with instructions to give the wicked warning from his mouth. No charge could be brought against the people of Rushville because of failure to manifest concern in times of physical distress."

The Rev. Mr. Dodds recalled how the people responded during the call of distress in the Johnstown flood and the San Francisco earthquake.

"All classes of citizens will respond to those who are in physical distress," he continued, "but the trouble is not physical distress; it is spiritual distress. Lift up your eyes, survey the field; men and women, boys and girls, are under the curse of the broken law. We converse with them on all subjects, yet never open our lips in attempting to save their souls from hell."

The minister pointed to the classes of professed followers of Jesus Christ who are watchmen; the minister, the Sabbath school teacher, every father and mother who profess to be children of God are watchmen.

He invited, in conclusion, all who would do their best to reach the unsaved in the community during the meetings to come forward. Many responded to the invitation and promised to help in the work of the revival.

Unfair Criticism.

Washington dispatches said that leaders of the prohibition movement were inclined to criticize Senator Watson of this city and Senator Kern for their alleged inconsistency in first voting for the measure leave the question of whether the District of Columbia should be dry to a vote of the people and then voting for the prohibition bill which puts the saloons out of business in the District without a referendum. The referendum bill was defeated by a tie vote. The prohibition bill then was passed by a vote of 55 to 32.

Friends of Mr. Watson here had no trouble in explaining his position and saw nothing inconsistent about it. Few could see that it was any injustice to vote for a bill to submit the prohibition question to the voters of the District of Columbia and let them decide for themselves whether they wanted a saloonless Washington. Consistent or inconsistent, Senator Watson proved himself to be a friend of the dry cause when he voted for the straightout prohibition bill which wipes out the saloons without a referendum.

When the referendum measure was up once in December and was lost in a tie vote. Senator Watson voted for it and issued a statement explaining his stand. He said he had always been a consistent friend of prohibition and cited his race in Indiana for governor in 1908 on a county option platform. County option contemplates the same thing as the referendum measures defeated in the senate.

If, after voting for the referendum, Senator Watson had voted against the prohibition bill, the criticism might be just, but the referendum presented the same principle as does the bill to bring about nationwide prohibition. It is necessary to drive the saloons out of the United States, for the measure to receive a two-thirds vote in both branches of congress and then be approved of by two-thirds of the states.

The real friends of prohibition are those who believe in giving the people a fair show to express their convictions. When fanatics try to jam anything down their throats, it will only set back the prohibition movement.

cial acts meet with such general approval as did the first one when he asked Ed Lee to resign as a member of the state public service commission, his record will be enviable.

The national administration plans a will to wipe out corruption in elections and at the same time provide a plenty for election betting. The Muncie Press suggests that probably the democrats want to keep the republicans from winning back in 1920 some of the 10 to 7 money they lost in 1916.

The allies say they won't and the Teutons say they won't so it looks like what may be terms a draw.

You ought to be able to write it 1917 without a single hitch now.

TO INCREASE CROWD DAILY

Congressional Union Begins Picketing the White House.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 11.—An idea of the earnestness with which the Congressional Union for woman suffrage intends to go in its picketing of the white house came when it was announced the "silent sentinels" would be gradually increased until 3,000 will be surrounding the executive mansion grounds by inauguration day March 5.

Taking their cause to the very gates of the white house twelve Congressional Union women pickets took their position at the entrance to the mansion grounds yesterday. Immediately upon arrival of the "silent sentinels," attaches of the white house went into conference to discuss ways and means of dispersing the women should a demonstration occur or should the "silent sentinels" draw crowds about the gate.

Getting Up

Getting up three hundred and sixty-five times a year as we do, a person would think we'd get used to it. But we don't.

Not even with bellboys, alarm clocks, cold water, wives waiting breakfast and other pernicious inventions to egg us on, we don't.

Folks have been getting up ever since the world began; and they don't like it any better now than they did the morning Cain slew Abel.

It's just as easy to keep a good man down as it is to get him up.

About the only way to keep from getting up is to lie down and die. And that doesn't always work. Look at Lazarus.

they responded with an encore, "The Boys Glee Club" adapted to the local organization and brimming over with fun. The boys quartette brought some more comedy in their number "Alexander" simply bringing down the house with the puns on the name Alexander written to music. In this quartette were Carl Hawkins, John Norris, Harold Wolcott and Hubert Alexander.

Harry Schmalzel was more popular than ever last evening when he acted as specialty man for the glee club and gave two black-face monologues. A parody on "The Raven" was so popular that he gave a Hawaiian song. Twenty-four girls are on the Junior Glee club, which sang a beautiful song, "Mammy's Lullaby." Although a new organization for Rushville schools, the Junior Glee club displayed a great amount of vocal talent among the young people.

Mr. Parke, who is a talented violinist, played "First Movement of Spanish Symphony" with excellent technique. He responded with an encore. Mrs. Parke was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Parke. Had one not seen the attractive group of eight young Americans on the stage they might well have believed they were hearing native Hawaiians when the double quartette played a medley of Hawaiian songs, with ukeleles and stringed instruments, the girls singing the melodies. In this group were the girls quartette, mentioned before, and Ed Meredith, Harry Schmalzel, William Sexton and Dwight VanOsdel. The last number by the girl's Glee Club showed a diversity of selection, "Irish Lullaby," "The Two Clocks," and "De Coppah Moon." They were joined on the stage by the other two glee clubs and orchestra for the ensemble number, closing the program with "Auf Wiedersehen" from the "Blue Paradise." The orchestra and soloists then played a medley of popular songs.

of all on the program, was a fitting close to the excellent program. The accompanists are worthy of praise. Miss Dorothy Sparks displayed her remarkable talent in accompanying the orchestra, the Girl's Glee club; John Lewis played well in accompanying the Boy's Glee club; Brenda Kinsinger showed herself a young musician in the difficult accompaniment of the Junior Glee club; and C. E. Parke accompanied the double quartette and solo numbers with ability.

Corns Peel Right Off With "Gets-It"

2 Drops, and the Corn is a "Goner!"

When you've got to walk on the sides of your shoe to get away from those awful corn-pains, there's only one common-sense thing to do.

Use "Gets-It" Your Corns Won't Swell in Water. Besides, They'll Shrink, Loosen and Peel Off!

Put 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on the corn right away. Pain and inflammation will disappear, the corn will begin to shrink from that instant—then it loosens and falls right off. There's no other corn-remover in the world that acts like "Gets-It." No new discovery has been made in corn-removers since "Gets-It" was born. Don't forget that fact. "Gets-It" does away forever with the use of salves that irritate, bandages that make a bundle of your toe, plasters that half do the work, knives and saws that draw blood. Use "Gets-It"—no more digging or cutting. "Gets-It" is sold everywhere. No a bottle or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. CONTRIBUTIONS ARE BEING SOUGHT HERE

Publicity Representative of State Park Committee Will be Back in Rushville Tuesday

FUNDS ARE WANTED AT ONCE

M. V. Prather, publicity agent of the State Park Memorial Committee, was here a short time late yesterday afternoon trying to get an audience with a number of public spirited men last night regarding the state park movement, but found nearly everyone he interviewed occupied and decided to return next Tuesday morning. Mr. Prather will hold a meeting and present the proposition to a group of Connersville men next Monday evening.

Mr. Prather is attempting to interest the people of the counties outside of Marion county in the state park movement, which has for its purpose the preservation of the beauty spots of the state in a park system, which has already been started. Turkey Run and McCormick Creek's Canyon have been purchased, but the committee is still in debt and wants more money. All of the contributions thus far have come from Marion county. An appeal signed by Former Governor Ralston and Governor Goodrich in December was published here, but there was scarcely any local comment. It is desired that the necessary funds be raised immediately so that the legislature can formally accept the gift on the part of the state.

"Organization is doing great things for rural Indiana," said Miss Grace L. King of Richmond today, in an address before the Home Economics association. Miss King is the supervisor of domestic science in the Wayne County schools. "One thing that has brought about great changes in farm life is the realization of the fact that something must be done to make country life more attractive and keep young people on the farm. Facing this condition the farmers hastened the organization of their forces and the housewives joined with them. This revolution in rural life is felt in every community. It is the dawn of a new era. The financial gain through organization and improved methods is tremendous but it is small compared to the improvement in the rural schools, the rural church, the farm house and the life and character of the people themselves."

The weakest thing in home management is the failure to spend wisely," she continued. Economists agree that our greatest problem is not one of how to produce economically, but how to consume without waste. Husband and wife must agree on a program of expenditure if home life is to be ideal. As to what is the greatest need of the rural communities today I would say that it is leadership. The farming communities need leaders—preferably residents of these places. A wise leader will unselfishly devote himself to the advancement of his community. He will organize wisely and well. And then standards will be raised all along the line."

"Children's Clothing," was the subject of Miss Beall's address before the home economics association. She said it was very important to provide the right kind of clothing for children. Protection must be given the growing body without distorting it. The child's attire should not be too conspicuously different from that of its playmates and it should not be so elaborate as to foster false pride. Simple, durable garments were recommended.

"There are no bad girls," said Dr. Edith B. Lowry of Chicago. "There are misguided girls, undisciplined girls who suffer from the effects of lack of training, bad environment and bad heredity, but there are no actually bad girls. In our experience to train the girls for their part in business life we have been inclined to neglect the training for the other part of their life—that of a homemaker and mother. We expect a boy to do things which serve as an outlet for his pent-up emotions but we expect a girl to go in a calm, uneventful manner with no outlet for the overflow of emotion. The majority of mothers seem to have no recollection of their own youthful dreams. The girl who has had the right kind of home training can go out in the world and be trusted to find the path of right and virtue. The girl, on the other hand, who has known no proper home influence is not as age even under her own roof. The only way is to make the home conform to that beautiful definition: "In the thought of civilized humanity, home is the one peculiarly dear and holy place where shall bud and blossom the highest growths of human life!"

FIT

Why is it that one will sometimes see a shoe of beautiful design in the window which, when tried on looks shabby and unkept? A great many times it is because the shoe is made only for style and eye attraction, with no thought given to its fit. After style, fit is the all important feature.

Pitch-in supper for Psi Iota Xi, with Mrs. Reeves Woods near Arlington. Guests leave here on 4:37 or 3:37 nation cars.

At the meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church held yesterday afternoon in the church final plans for the supper this evening. Several other business matters were decided upon. About ten members of the society were present.

Miss Lillian Coyne was honored Tuesday evening when a birthday surprise was given on her by Mrs. Hazel Smalley who planned the affair. The party celebrated her 16th birthday. Twenty-six young people gathered at her home and spent the time dancing and playing games. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church held a large and very interesting session in the parlors of the church yesterday afternoon. After a profitable prayer and song service, a business meeting was held during which it was decided to serve a penny supper in the basement of the church on Wednesday evening, January 17th. The supper will be served from 5 o'clock on.

In taking up a new book for mission study for the coming year, an excellent program was given at the meeting of the Young Ladies Missionary society of the United Presbyterian held with Miss Anna Mary Cowan yesterday afternoon. The book for the coming year is "World Missions and World Peace" and the leader of the program was Mrs. James Hall, who opened the program with a Bible reading. Miss Cowan discussed "The Principles of the Early Church," "The Church Militant" was discussed by Mrs. Hal Pike; and Mrs. Kramer gave an interesting discussion of "How Can the Church of Today Retain the Principles of Early Christianity." A letter was read from Miss Logan of India who is one of the teachers of the little Indian girl which the society is educating. Plans for the coming year were discussed. The next meeting of the society will be with Mrs. Fred Wilson.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Jennie Stevens spent yesterday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stevens.

The lesson for Mrs. Link's Bible class which will meet with Mrs. F. B. Stearns tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock will be Joshua 9 to 15.

One of the prettiest little informal affairs of the season was the card party given by Mrs. Carl Behr yesterday afternoon when she entertained several guests with the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Card Club at her home in North Main street. There were 7 tables in play, engaged in the rounds of Bridge. At the conclusion of the games, an elegant turkey dinner was served made more delicious by the beautiful appointments arranged by the hostess.

A very enthusiastic start for the New Year was made by the members of the Loyal Women's Bible class of the Christian Sunday school at their meeting in the church yesterday afternoon. The out-going and incoming officers acted as hostesses. The business session in the church parlors was followed by the service of a luncheon in the basement of the church. Here a color scheme of green and yellow was brought out in the attractive decorations. Yellow candles lit each of the small tables and strands of smilax were twined here and there. A delicious luncheon was served to the fifty-three guests. The out-going officers were president, Mrs. Laura Keisling; vice-president, Mrs. Walter Conoway; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charles Osman, who was re-elected for next year. The incoming officers are president, Mrs. P. H. Chadwick; vice-president, Mrs. Bert Ormes; and assistant secretary-treasurer, Mrs. John Borem.

An auspicious start for the coming year was made by the Woman's Relief Corps yesterday afternoon when a public installation of officers was made in the Red Men hall. Following the installation, which was witnessed by about 40 members of the society and a number of visitors, an elegant pitch-in supper was served in the dining room. Mrs. Selman Webb, the outgoing president, received a number of pretty gifts as a token of the appreciation of the members of the Corps for her efficient service. The incoming officers who were installed yesterday were: president, Mrs. Will Trennepohl; senior vice-president, Mrs. Eva Offutt; junior vice-president, Mrs. Lydia Turner; secretary, Mrs. Noley G. Newkirk; treasurer, Mrs. William Bainbridge; chaplain, Mrs. Selman Webb; conductor, Mrs. Alice Denny; assistant, Mrs. Fannie Ridenbaugh; guard, Mrs. Francis Walker; assistant, Mrs. Laura Wolverton; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Cornelia Lyons; press correspondent, Mrs. Phoebe Phillips; color bearers, Mrs. Minnie Moore, Mrs. Mary Poston, Mrs. Ella Wolung, Miss Anna Gilson; installing officer, Mrs. Addie Mattox.

The next meeting of the W. R. C. will be Wednesday, January 24 in the G. A. R. room of the court house. The next meeting of the Penny Social, the social organization in connection with the Corps, will be the first Tuesday in February with Mrs. C. M. Yocum.

Mrs. A. L. Canady of Raleigh was hostess for the meeting of the Sunshine Embroidery Club held yesterday afternoon. A dozen members of the club were present for the delightful time spent together at the close of which a tempting luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ed Chambers of this city.

John Carpenter is ill at his home in Seventh street with a severe attack of la grippe.

From all indications, more than the usual crowd of out-of-town visitors will attend the dance to be given Monday evening in the Phi Delta Kappa hall by a committee of local young men. The music is quite an attraction and on this account a cabaret program will be given from 8:15 to 9:30 and following this, those who care to dance may do so. The orchestra is composed of six pieces, three of the members being ladies, and is said to live up to the name Troubadours. They come from Chicago.

SHOWS RATS TO BE VERY EXPENSIVE

Dr. Hutry Declares They Have Bearing on High Cost of Living—Loss Estimated.

SUGGESTS KILLING THEM

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—To reduce the high cost of living kill the rats; This was the advice given today by Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the States Board of Health. "There are fully 3,000,000 rats in the state of Indiana, and each one costs, not less than $1.50 for its keep, Dr. Hurty said. "This means an annual expenditure for feeding rats of $4,500,000. This is a big sum and if it were saved by killing the rats, it would go a long way toward the meeting of the high costs of living.

"Rats also carry lice, fleas and other insect vermin. Typhus fever, which is transmitted through lice, has recently appeared in two places in Illinois and if any of these rats stray over the line into Indiana and bring some lice infected with typhus fever germs, we will have that awful disease to contend with in the hoosier state.

"It will be found almost as profitable to kill rats and cement them out with cement foundations and cement floors, as it is to raise some crops. If the people of Indiana are a practical people, if the business men really know good business, and if we all desire to practice a big and true economy, we will rise against the rats."

HARRY THAW TRYS TO TAKE HIS LIFE

Slayer of Stanford White Who Was Indicted by Grand Jury Slashes Throat With Razor

SLIGHT CHANCE TO RECOVER

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 11.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and now wanted in New York to answer an indictment that he brought Frederick Gump here, cut his throat in a West Philadelphia apartment this afternoon.

Thaw also slashed his wrist. Physicians said he had a slight chance of recovery. Thaw slashed himself as detectives were bursting into the room to arrest him on the warrant issued in New York. He had terribly mutilated himself with the razor.

Thaw's sensational attempts at suicide brought to a close a nationwide search conducted by the New York police department after his indictment on charges of kidnapping the Gump boy on Christmas day in Thaw's room.

FOUNDATION DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Alumni and Former Students of Indiana University Will Hear Prof. William Jenkins.

AT COURT HOUSE ASSEMBLY

State University is 97 Years Old Friday and Celebrations Will be Held all Over State.

Local alumni and former students of Indiana University are planning for a Foundation Day program here Friday night. The meeting will be held in the assembly room of the court house and the main speaker of the evening will be Prof. William Jenkins of the university. The meeting is open to the public and a special effort is being made to obtain a large gathering of alumni and former students.

Prof. Jenkins is not unknown in Rushville. He has been delivering a series of lectures to the Shakespeare club and through these talks has gained a large following. As he is a member of the university faculty his presence should add interest to the celebration.

The state university is ninety-seven years old Friday and similar celebrations are to be held by the alumni all over the state. The birthday of the university has been observed for several years past and it is hoped to have this year establish a high mark for attendance.

The Foundation Day address at the University will be delivered by Ambassador Romulo S. Naon. The coming of such a famous man as the Argentina ambassador, it is believed, will interest the alumni throughout the state. He is a well known authority on constitutional law and educational subjects.

Other events at the university will include a play by the university dramatic club, the annual big Foundation Day parade, a University Orchestra recital and the awarding of

11 STATES TO ASK BOUNTY ON COYOTES

Plans For Uniform Law in All of the States Are Now Being Considered

$2.50 A HEAD TO BE PROPOSED

(By United Press.)
Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 11.—Plans for the adoption of a uniform bounty law for coyotes seriously hampering sheep raising in the western range states will be made at the three-day convention of the National Wool-growers association which opened here today.

A special committee will report a measure which it framed for the legislatures of the eleven western states of Utah, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon and Washington. A bounty of $2.50 a head will be proposed.

An estimated investment of $100,000,000 was represented by the 1,000 members from thirteen western states.

President Frank J. Hagenbarth, in his annual report, predicted continued high prices for wool, declaring that adverse legislation, the reduction in ranges, the foreign outlook and bullish conditions generally have resulted in a large reduction in the size of flocks.

the Bryan prize for oratory.

The interest manifested in Foundation Day has grown year by year. Not only in the state are meetings held and permanent alumni organizations effected, but also in numerous larger cities scattered throughout the country. Last year thirty such meetings were held, while in the state proper the university was remembered by sixty-six meetings in as many counties.

BILL FOR FARM AT REFORMATORY

Senator Charles Lantz Wants Institution to be at Least Partly Self Supporting.

PROPOSES TO GET 1,000 ACRES

Will Ask Legislature to appropriate Sum of $20,000 For Paroled Prisoners.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Senator Charles Lantz of Bedford expects to start the ball rolling in the legislature for a farm at the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville, to make that institution at least partly self-supporting. The government will be in accordance with the policy of Gov. Goodrich's and recommendations of the visiting committee of the state board of charities and David C. Peyton, superintendent of the institution.

It is proposed to procure a five year lease on 1,100 acres of land with option of purchasing the farm at any time during life of the lease.

During the last year, 40 per cent profit was made on the institutions 168 acre farm. Onions, potatoes and other vegetables used in the reformatory were raised.

Peyton will ask the legislature to create a fund of $20,000 for paroled and discharged prisoners. He will also ask $150,000 for maintenance for each year for the next two years basing the amount on 1,000 prisoners and $130 a year for each inmate in excess of this number.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 11.—The state department has instructed American Charge Karter at Mexico City that American Consul Williams at San Luis Potosi immediately investigate the death of Luis D'Anton, Mexican embassy attache, who died suddenly while accompanying Ambassador Arredondo to Mexico City.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BILL PROVIDES FOR ABSENT VOTERS

Controversy During Recent Election Over Indiana Guard Leads to Introduction.

APPLICATION TO CLERK

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Provision for voters who are out of the state on election day, to cast their ballots is made in a bill which will be introduced in the lower house of the legislature by Representative Ira A. Kessler, of McGrawville and in the senate by William E. English, Indianapolis.

Controversies during the recent election regarding whether the Indiana National Guardsmen at the border could cast their vote by mail led to the drafting of the bill.

The voter, according to the bill, would be required to make application to the clerk of the Circuit court in the county or town in which he resided thirty days before election.

TO REPEAL LAW.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Repeal of the present Indiana election registration law and the enactment of a substitute measure will be proposed in a bill to be introduced into the legislature within a few days. The substitute bill will provide that voters would be required to show their tax receipt before being allowed to cast their ballots. This provision would eliminate colonization, it is believed by the backers of the bill.

CRIST OF BILLS STARTS IN SENATE

Measure Calling For Constitutional Convention in January, 1918 is Introduced.

ONE AIMED AT OLD H. C. OF L.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—The bill providing for the calling of a constitutional convention was introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Harry Negley of Indianapolis, republican, and Senator Abram Simmons of Bluffton, the two senators acting jointly. The convention would meet in January, 1918.

The first bill aimed at the high cost of living was introduced by Senator Negley. It provides that no city in Indiana shall impose a license on peddlers or hawkers who are trying to sell goods which they produce themselves.

Prohibition of the sale of liquor on trains is asked in a bill presented by Representative Wood of Rensselaer.

The senate appointment committee today gave jobs to forty-nine persons, ten of whom are democrats.

Women would have to live in a county sixty days before a marriage license could be granted, according to the provision of a bill introduced by Senator English of Indianapolis. Abolishment of capital punishment is asked by Senator McCray of Franklin, in a bill.

Senator Kinder of Gary introduced a bill providing that injured workmen will have to wait only seven days instead of fourteen for compensation as at present.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freestone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freestone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

My Favorite Slogan.

Not very beautiful—but brimming with truth and hope anew every time I repeat it to myself—is my slogan. Perhaps by these hints you have guessed that it is "Be glad you're alive!"

After all, the very fact that we live is enough for which to be thankful. Perhaps just today our health is poor and our purse slim. But tomorrow's another day, and we may be still alive to enjoy any good things which may be in store.

Of course I know it's very hard to be thankful for anything when your head aches and your body is tired. I've been in that state myself. Particularly right after my long illness did it seem almost impossible to go through another day. But the hand-painted motto "Be glad you're alive" which friend Ethel designed for me and which hangs between my bedroom windows, stared me in the face and shamed me. I gathered my nerves together and stood refreshed for the battle.

I am glad to be alive. Life is so wonderful and is ever offering so much new and delightful that I should hate to have it slip from my grasp. We never appreciate life until it starts to leave us, you know. And then what an effort we make to hold tightly to the shreds of it! When I was ill with the raging fever which seemed to burn the very blood out of my body, the only thing I desired in this world was to get well. How small and petty former troubles seemed in this ordeal.

Be glad you're alive, friends. But something else—make those about you also glad you're alive. Have a smile even though your brain is tired and your body racked. After all it only takes a moment to say a kind word or give a smile, and then you have probably won a firmer friendship.

Remember also that as long as we have life we have opportunity of making all things worth while. With life in our grasp, it lies in our powers to acquire health, wealth and the combination of the two—happiness.

HOOSIER BRIEFS.

Huntington — The Huntington county Fish and Game association held its annual fish fry here today. Prizes were awarded the winners of the year.
